

Project Vector 46

Contributed by Super Tuner Admin
Wednesday, 28 November 2007
Last Updated Thursday, 29 November 2007

Project Vector started over ten years ago with the objective of designing a one off, unsinkable high performance offshore V bottom constructed entirely from aluminum. Its purpose was to provide safe, fast, reliable excursions from south Florida to the Bahamas regardless of conditions.

The build features a radical concept of propulsion featuring triple marinized versions of the GM Duramax Diesel coupled with an Allison 5 speed automatic overdrive transmission and BPM surface drives or VI SSM drives.